

1 Match to make sentences.

- a. The primary sector transforms raw materials into manufactured products.
 b. The secondary sector obtains services such as trade and health.
 c. The tertiary sector provides raw materials from natural resources.

2 Write P (primary sector) or S (secondary sector).

3 Complete the text. Write lines, activities, part, factories and industrial.

Industry is one of the most important _____ in the secondary sector. Many people work in _____. They use machines to transform raw materials into manufactured products. This is called the _____ process. When people work on production _____, each worker specializes in one _____ of the process.

4 Read about the workers per sector in Spain. Then, answer the questions.

Sector	Spain	European Union (EU)
Primary	4 out of 100 people	5 out of 100 people
Secondary	22 out of 100 people	27 out of 100 people
Tertiary	74 out of 100 people	68 out of 100 people

- a. In which sector are Spain and the EU most similar? _____
 b. Which sector is the most important in Spain? _____

1 Answer these questions about the tertiary sector.

- a. What is another name for the tertiary sector? _____
- b. Which services do these people provide? What is their job?

2 Match.

- a. Buying and selling products within a country.
- b. Products we buy from other countries.
- c. Shopkeepers sell products to customers.
- d. Products we sell to other countries.
- e. Buying products from and selling products to other countries.

imports

trade

domestic trade

foreign trade

exports

3 Write examples for each type of trade.

- a. Domestic trade: Fish are caught in Galicia and sold in Madrid.
- b. Foreign trade – imports: _____
- c. Foreign trade – exports: _____

4 Which service? Write TR (transport), TO (tourism) or O (other services).

- activities relating to holidays moving products and passengers
- holiday companies health and education